Grace Farnsworth- marimba

Paul Creston
Concertino for Marimba

Music has had a prominent role throughout Grace's life. She took private piano lessons for 7 years before switching to marimba lessons over the last 3 years. She has loved playing in Corner Canyon's Percussion Ensemble for 4 years under the direction of Dr. Clark and Mr. Atencio. In 2021 Grace received a Superior rating for a 4-mallet marimba piece at the State Solo & Ensemble festival and was a drummer in CCHS's Battle of the Bands. Grace also likes to play the harmonica and ukulele. She is currently building her second guitar and looks forward to learning how to play it. In addition to musical pursuits, Grace enjoys making jewelry, going to yard sales, baking cakes and macarons, and hanging out with friends. She will attend BYU in the fall.

Amber Griffin- violin

Charles de Beriot
Scene de Ballet op.100

Amber started playing violin when she was 4 years old and has always enjoyed it. She studied with Kathy Parker for many years and is now taking lessons from Lisa Brodie. She has enjoyed participating in the Lyceum Philharmonic at American Heritage School this past year. She loves music and everything it has brought into her life over the years. She also enjoys mountain biking, hiking, and spending time with family and friends.

Allison Oler, violin

Ludwig von Beethoven
Romance for Violin op. 50

A senior who started learning violin at the age of 5 with Elizabeth Halbrook, Allison now studies with Lois Stout and loves every minute of it. This is her third year playing with the Corner Canyon Orchestra. She was also a member of the Timpanogos Chamber Orchestra for several years in the junior orchestra. She also performs regularly at the church she attends and local nursing homes. Allison is also a skilled pianist and won her division of the Salt Lake Piano Competition in 2018. An avid skier and runner, she is a member of the varsity track and cross country teams, and is a team captain this year.

Tyler Randall, clarinet

Carl Maria von Weber
Concerto No. 1 in F Minor op. 73

Tyler loves music and has played clarinet for 8 years, and piano for 10. He plays in the Wind Symphony at Corner Canyon High School as well as Alto Saxophone in the Advanced Jazz Band. He was in the All-state band both his Jr. and Sr. years and has performed with the Draper Philharmonic and Choral Society and in various other community and church events. Tyler loves learning new things and has enjoyed college-level courses at CCHS where he maintained a 4.0 GPA and earned several academic university scholarships. He plays on the CCHS varsity soccer team and runs cross country and track. He has always enjoyed playing competitively in soccer, basketball, and baseball, and loves working out, running, biking, hiking, skiing, and lifting. In his free time, Tyler likes to read, write, play games with his 8 (soon to be 9) younger siblings, be outside, and hang out with friends. Tyler plans to serve an LDS mission after high school, after which he will likely go into Engineering or other sciences at BYU or Utah State University.

Katie Burnett, piano

Joseph Haydn
Concerto for Piano Hob. 18:11

Katie Burnett has been playing the piano for 13 years, and runs a successful piano studio with 15 students. She has won many awards, including superior rankings at state solo and ensemble and piano federation. She is an accomplished accompanist, regularly performing with the Corner Canyon Choirs, Corner Canyon Pit Orchestra, and supporting other students as they perform. Katie plans to attend Brigham Young University next fall, and major in piano performance.

Nicholas Kelley, cello

Max Bruch
Kol Nidrei

Nicholas will be playing Kol Nidrei, Op. 47 by Max Bruch. Kol Nidrei, meaning “All Vows” in Aramaic, is a recitation at the beginning of the evening service on Yom Kippur (“Day of Atonement”). “I am honored to share this beautiful Jewish folk melody with you this evening”. Nicholas would like to thank his beginning Suzuki teacher from the age of seven, Rachel Burton, and his current teacher, Anne Francis-Bayless, (Professor of Cello Performance, Utah State University). Nicholas also enjoys playing the piano and is a member of the Corner Canyon High School Soccer Team.

Megan Reimann, violin

Samuel Barber
Concerto for Violin

Megan Reimann is a senior and the 2022 Sterling Scholar for Instrumental Music at Corner Canyon High School. She enjoys teaching and tutoring students in violin and hopes to attend BYU to further her education in music. She currently participates in the Salt Lake community orchestra called Young Artist Chamber Players and performs with this group around the state. Megan has been able to use her musical abilities to compete in region and state Solo and Ensemble Festivals, where she received 1 ratings for her performances. She has also received Superior ratings for all six years in which she has participated in Violin Federation. Megan would like to thank her teachers Dr. Clark, Mr. Atencio, Leslie Henrie, and Monte Belknap, as well as her parents, for all the support they have given her in her journey to become a musician.

Ainsley Bowers, violin

Jules Massenet
Mediatation

Ainsley Bowers is a Junior at Corner Canyon High School. She's been studying the violin since she was 3 years old. She has been under the tutelage of Trina Christensen, Board of Directors El Sistema USA and Director of Operations and Finance of Intermountain Suzuki String Institute (ISSI). Ainsley also studies with renowned soloist William Hagen. She has been attending ISSI and Sun Valley Music Festival Institute, which has offered her opportunities to perform with multiple chamber and performance groups. Her quartet soloed last year at the Intermountain Suzuki String Institute. Ainsley plays on the CCHS varsity soccer team. She's also a member of NHS, CCHS French Club and the CCHS Orchestra Committee. Concerto Night 2022 will be Ainsley's first solo performance with an orchestra.

Jacquelyn Marsh, violin

Dmitry Kabalevsky
Concerto for Violin op. 48

Jacquelyn is a junior at Corner Canyon High School and has been playing the violin since she was five years old. She is currently a member of the Young Artist Chamber Players orchestra and previously played with the Rocky Mountain Strings. Jacquelyn has played at numerous venues throughout the state and was able to travel with a performance group throughout Hungary, Austria, and Germany. Her favorite violin memory was playing with The Piano Guys at the Vivint Smart Home Arena. Jacquelyn is also a varsity player on the CCHS tennis team and serves as an officer for FCCLA and NHS. She is grateful for her family and wonderful teachers she's had who have helped her grow as a violinist.
